Texas and Wisconsin residents indicted for interstate drug conspiracy

United States Attorney Steven M. Biskupic announced today that eight defendants were indicted November 14, 2007, for an interstate drug conspiracy and distribution that occurred between 2004 and 2007. The defendants include Javier Llamas (DOB xx/xx/81) of Edinburg, Texas, Zacarias David Segura (DOB xx/xx/88) of San Juan, Texas, Gary D. Engel (DOB xx/xx/74) and Christopher M. Sorenson (DOB xx/xx/72) of Appleton, Wisconsin, Christopher M. Bucklin (DOB xx/xx/78 of Menasha, Wisconsin, Kenneth A. Crabtree (DOB xx/xx/72) and Chad A. Powell (DOB xx/xx/81) of Kaukauna, Wisconsin, and Jeffrey T. Langley (DOB xx/xx/77) of Kimberly, Wisconsin.

Each defendant faces up to 40 years in prison if convicted on the conspiracy charge, and up to 5 years in prison if convicted as to each of the respective distribution counts. The public is reminded that an indictment is only a charging document which does not carry any inference of guilt, and that the defendants are presumed innocent of all charges unless and until the government proves their guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

The federal grand jury in the Eastern District of Wisconsin indicted the defendants for conspiring to distribute 100 kilograms or more of marijuana and 500 grams or more of cocaine. The indictment also alleges nine counts in which one or more of the named defendants is alleged to have distributed marijuana. The indictment follows a related indictment earlier this year in which six defendants were charged and later convicted in the Eastern District of Wisconsin for conspiring to distribute 100 kilograms or more of marijuana. Those defendants included Adrian Perez (DOB xx/xx/82) of Sandoval, Texas, Darek D. Stuber (DOB xx/xx/81), Paul R. Rogers (DOB xx/xx/81), and Daniel M. Vandenwildenberg (DOB xx/xx/82) of Kaukauna, Wisconsin, and Jesse D. Vandenwildenberg (DOB xx/xx/82) and Stephen C. Rogers (DOB xx/xx/80) of Appleton, Wisconsin.

The case was investigated by the Drug Enforcement Administration, the Lake Winnebago Area Metropolitan Drug Unit, and the Wisconsin Division of Criminal Investigation, and is being prosecuted by Assistant United States Attorneys Kelly Watzka and Timothy Funnell of the Eastern District of Wisconsin.
